Finding maps in Library Search

All maps in the URRSA (Joint Store) or Barr Smith Library collections are searchable in Library Search.

Procedure

1. Access Library Search from the library homepage.

2. Search for maps on particular subjects or locations:
   - Example keywords: geolog* south Australia
   - or
   - Search for maps by a particular cartographer or organisation:
   - Example keywords: australia division national mapping

3. Using the menu on the right hand side, scroll down to Resource Type and select Maps.
4. You should then see a list that includes only maps.

5. Note that your search may reveal maps held at locations other than the URRSA (Joint Store). For example, the library owns a modest collection of subject-related maps (such as historical maps), which are held in Special Collections. Enquiries about access to these maps should be directed to Special Collections staff.
