Introduction

Almost all videos are copyright and cannot be used in a variety of ways without permission or an exception. This includes videos which are freely available online. Creative Commons allows creators to apply a license to their work which gives permission to others to use the video in certain ways.

YouTube allows videos uploaded to their platform to be released under a Creative Commons Attribution (CC BY) license.

Procedure

1. Search YouTube (youtube.com)

2. Click on FILTER to open the search filters

3. Select Creative Commons
4. Confirm the licence from the individual video page (you may need to click on SHOW MORE)

   ![YouTube video player]

   Ewok (Lionhead bunny) doing some tricks
   176,544 views - Jun 12, 2012

   MinVoo
   104 subscribers

   Bunnies are awesome pets, if you put the effort you can pretty much train them the same tricks you can train a dog. Ewok is pretty lovable and loves to show affection.

   Category: Pets & Animals
   License: Creative Commons Attribution license (reuse allowed)
   Source videos: View attributions

5. Attribute the video

   Note: Only the copyright owner can apply a Creative Commons license to a work. Avoid using works which have been uploaded by someone other than the copyright owner as they may be an infringing copy

---

Contact Us

For further support or questions, please contact the University Library on +61 8 8313 5759 or email library@adelaide.edu.au